

Ready To Act In The Coal Crisis

Taft-Hartley Law Be Invoked If Miners Fail To Return To Pits

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(P)—Two top presidential advisers said tonight that President Truman will invoke the Taft-Hartley Act against John L. Lewis unless his soft coal miners return to the pits Monday.

The two officials, in separate interviews, said the United Mine Workers chief had left the chief executive no alternative but the use of the act which he has sought to repeal.

Presidential advisers are already at work on the draft of a presidential order.

Neither of the White House intimates who outlined the White House plans would be quoted by name.

They said that the president would act unless there is an unexpected return to the coal mines by the UMW members.

By Harold W. Ward
WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(P)—John L. Lewis today spurned President Truman's plan to end the mounting coal crisis with a fact-finding board and this immediately set off wild-fire rumors of a nationwide mine strike Monday.

Coal operators and miners alike predicted that little coal would be dug next week as President Truman's offer to name a three-man board fell flat on the White House doorstep with Lewis' 500-word reply.

The White House announced that the Lewis answer "is construed as a rejection" of the President's proposals.

"The President's further course will depend on the state of employment in the mines on Monday," the statement added.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen to "draw your own conclusions" whether the Taft-Hartley act would be invoked if the miners fail to report to work then.

Ready For Signal
John D. Battle, executive vice president of the National Coal Association, said reports from the field indicated that the "wink or the nod" to walk out already had been given by Lewis.

Lewis said his 400,000 soft coal miners were dead set against placing their wages and working conditions in the hands of "three strangers" no matter how well-meaning.

Mr. Truman had proposed that the miners return to normal coal digging for 70 days while the board studied the dispute and came up with recommendations for settlement which could be accepted or rejected by either side. But Lewis voiced suspicions.

In cryptic terms, the United Mine Workers leader contended that the board's findings would leave his union with but one choice—to accept or face a Taft-Hartley act injunction against a strike.

And he hinted broadly that such an injunction would bring on a work slowdown.

Problem To White House
That shifted the problem directly to the President, Lewis threw out no hint whether he was directing the miners to join Monday in the partial walkouts which already were threatening to spread in the contact shutdown.

Reports that Lewis had sent out a general strike order came from Illinois. It was not confirmed by any top district or international union officers. In strike-torn western Pennsylvania, angry leaders promised to swell the ranks of the 100,000 who were idle last week.

Turn on Lights In White Way On Broadway

Provide Greater Safety to Motorists And Pedestrians

The white-way overhead street lights that are erected west of the M-K-T underpass to Barrett avenue on Broadway in Sedalia, were turned on for the first time, Saturday about sunset.

This is only a portion of white-ways yet to be installed, east on Broadway and on Missouri avenue inside city limits. Missouri Public Service installed and will maintain the lights on a city contract basis.

Work was started on the white-ways on Broadway about the middle of November. The lights, which are 6,000 luminous arc attached to wood posts on steel arches about every 150 feet, or at every intersection and in the middle of each block. The posts are situated on the south side of Broadway.

The glass reflectors or globes are 25 feet from the ground, and are mounted high enough to prevent producing glare to a motorist, but at the same time, giving the driver greatly added illumination to be able to drive with greater safety at night.

One Killed, Three Injured As Trucks Collide
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4—(P)—One man was killed and three others injured when two trucks collided head-on in St. Louis county today.

Dead was Charles W. Cain, 26, of St. Louis.

A companion, Lawrence Lake, was injured as were two men in the other vehicle Julius Boehmer and Edward Hufmeier of Wright City, Mo.

Police said the crash occurred after a tire on Cain's truck blew out, throwing the vehicle out of control.

Leroy J. Shoemaker, Jr., Will Represent Scouts in Ceremony

Leroy J. Shoemaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Shoemaker, 1423 South Carl avenue, has been chosen to represent the Lake of the Ozarks council, Boy Scouts of America, in the ceremony 'Report to Missouri' to Governor Smith on February 6.

The presentation will be similar to those in all the forty-eight states and will be fore-runners to the Report to the Nation made to President Harry S. Truman.

Representatives from each of the eight local councils in Missouri will take part in the ceremony at Jefferson City.

The program in the presence of Gov. Smith will include the presentation of the Report to Missouri a report of progress and activities of the Boy Scout movement in the state for the past year and the presentation of a replica of the Statue of Liberty which is the symbol of the Boy Scout in the Crusade to Strengthen the Arm of Liberty.

Held Troop Office
Leroy Shoemaker, Jr., is 14 years old and a member of troop 63 of the Calvary Episcopal church. He has held troop offices as Patrol Leader and is now Senior Patrol Leader. Leroy now holds the rank of Star Scout with five merit badges.

He was chosen as the representative because of his qualifications as a leader in his troop.

Eight Injured As Train Hits Bus

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 4—(P)—A bus load of school girls and two nuns miraculously escaped with injuries to only eight today when a steamlined passenger train struck the rear of the bus at a crossing near here.

Attendants at a hospital here said Sister Mary Lenore was suffering severe injuries. The condition of seven teen-age students was said to be not serious.

Sgt. A. H. Bell of the Missouri highway patrol said he would file charges of careless and reckless driving against Clarence H. Miller, 53, driver of the bus. Miller was ordered to appear in magistrate court at Independence Tuesday.

Aboard the bus were 26 girls from Kansas City Catholic churches, and two supervisors, Sister Mary Vincentia and Sister Mary Lenore. The group was enroute to the Jackson county home for the aged to put on a musical program.

The train was the Missouri River Eagle, fast Missouri Pacific steamliner westbound from St. Louis to Omaha. An official of the railroad said the train apparently was traveling 79 miles an hour, its maximum.

Sergeant Bell said Miller told him he had not seen the train and heard no warning whistle.

The patrolman said an eye witness, Ely McCullough, told him warning lights were flashing at the crossing and the diesel locomotive horn was blowing as the train approached.

The impact and tossed 30 feet by the bus was hauled over on its side. The vehicle was deeply dented and torn open about 12 inches from the rear. Sergeant Bell said the bus would have cleared the tracks in another fraction of a second.

T. J. Close is Pleased to Win Contest

Mentioned Slogan To Wife Who Sent It In For Him

T. J. Close of Green Ridge, walked into the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Saturday to claim the $50 U. S. Savings Bond that he won in the slogan contest for the proposed Air Academy, with the slogan "Sedalia's Right for Academy Site." William Hurlbut, Jr., chairman of the contest, a photographer John Zander, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and a few others were waiting for him there.

There was a pleased expression on his face as he announced to one of the girls in the office that he was T. J. Close.

At once there was a barrage of questions starting with "Were you surprised?"

"Indeed I was," said Mr. Close. "When they told me Sedalia was calling me I couldn't imagine who it was or why anybody in Sedalia would be wanting to talk to me."

In referring to the contest he said "My wife is always fooling around with such things and she had several of them written. She read them to me and I told her they weren't very good. I'll give you one, I said, and so I gave her that one."

Mr. Close told her husband she was going to send that slogan in for him.

"So," commented someone in the group, "She sent in the slogan for you."

His Own Slogan
"Yes," he said, "She sent it in," then added quickly, "But it was my slogan, I thought it up."

When they told Mr. Close they wanted to take his picture he said "Oh, my wife should have come in here with me, she's pretty."

"Did she come to Sedalia with you this morning?" someone asked and he said that she did but she went on downtown.

Mr. Close, who has lived in Green Ridge 45 years is a retired business man. He was in the mercantile business there 20 years. Mr. and Mrs. Close have one daughter, Mrs. Charles Bowman of near Hyde Park, N.Y.

"She married a boy who was stationed out at the air base during the war," Mr. Close said.

Ask Dismissal Of Contest Case

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 4—(P)—The state asked Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair today to throw out of court a Republican state representative's legal contest of the gas tax increase election April 4.

Assistant Attorney General Gilbert Lamb in a motion to dismiss the case brought by Rep. George Bonter (R) of St. Louis county said Bonter didn't have a case.

Bonter filed suit in Cole county circuit court earlier this week, asking the legislature acted unconstitutionally in setting the special referendum election date by resolution.

But the attorney general's office argued the legislature acted fully within its power in setting the special election date. The law sponsored by Gov. Forrest Smith would double Missouri's present two-cent gasoline tax.

The case is to be heard by Judge Blair next Wednesday night (8 p. m.).

Blizzard in The Northwest Halts Trains

Aid From Red Cross To Arkansas Flood Victims

A blizzard that knifed through parts of the Pacific northwest halted trains and blocked highways Saturday. Two cities in the area faced a critical water shortage.

Flood waters continued their rampage in parts of Arkansas and the Mississippi neared the emergency stage at New Orleans. But elsewhere in the nation the flood picture was brighter.

A blizzard roared through Oregon's Columbia river for Friday. Nearly 24 hours later the area still was being pounded with sleet-laden winds of gale velocity.

Police, highway and train crews rescued scores of trapped motorists but all highway traffic was halted. Three westbound trains were held up at the Dalles, just east of the gorge. Eastbound trains were stopped at Portland. A westbound Union Pacific mail, express and baggage train was trapped in the gorge, but a snow plow was working just ahead of it.

Cut Water Supply
Ice caused break in water mains and left reservoirs run completely dry at Aberdeen, Wash. Many sections of the city of 25,000 were without water.

Rainier, Ore., was left without a water supply because of a frozen intake.

High winds and drifting snow made highways dangerous in parts of Idaho.

The lower White river spread over more farmlands in southeast Arkansas and the Ouachita river was still rising at Camden. Some 23,000 persons have been driven from their homes in Arkansas, hardest hit of the flood threatened states.

The swollen Mississippi river climbed to 19.3 feet at New Orleans. Technical flood stage is 17 feet. However, Army engineers said they see no need to open the Bonnet Carré spillway which would allow the high waters to roll through Lake Pontchartrain and Lake Borgne to the Gulf of Mexico. The spillway was designed to protect New Orleans.

The Ohio river continued to rise at Cincinnati, but skies were clear over the Ohio valley and forecasters said they did not expect any serious flood damage.

Except for light rain at points in Texas, clear skies prevailed from the Rockies to the Atlantic states.

Relief By Red Cross
LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 4—(P)—The American Red Cross today appropriated a total of $100,000 for the care of Arkansas' 23,000 flood victims.

Mrs. Elma Boone, state relations officer for the Red Cross, said she has been notified by her national headquarters in Washington, D. C., that the $100,000 appropriation had been made. She said "additional money, supplies and disaster workers also are ready for distribution in Arkansas should the need arise."

Mrs. Boone said that although her office in Little Rock had not received any official report today of new refugees from the floodwaters of three Arkansas rivers that "we know they are coming out of many lowland areas."

She reported evacuation of lowland families in the Indian bay area south of Holly Grove in Monroe county had begun.

"We have tents, stoves, and other supplies ready for them," she said.

The lower White river spilled over Lowlands in the Clarendon-Holly Grove area.

The turbulent Ouachita river, which covered thousands of acres of farmland near Arkadelphia, was reported falling rapidly today.

The St. Francis river has sent hundreds of residents of the delta lands of St. Francis county near Hughes to higher ground.

Hughes, a plantation center, is virtually surrounded by high waters.

Questions You Will Be Asked
Each fifth person in Sedalia was asked the question during census taking time in April. "Did you earn any money last year? About how much?" according to O. P. Kelley, district supervisor for the bureau of the census in the sixth Congressional district.

This will be asked by the enumerator, but if any person does not choose to answer this question for the enumerator, the matter can be referred to the enumerator or to the district supervisor, or the person may demand the special report folder which can be filled out, in private, and mailed to the Census Bureau.

"All census workers are under penalty to hold all census reports strictly confidential. The enumerator cannot reveal even so much as a person's age."

County Budget Has Been Set

The budget for Pettis county for 1950 has been set by County Clerk James Green, budget officer, and has been approved by the Pettis county court. It calls for an appropriation of $446,926 for the six classes.

Copies have been mailed to the state auditor and county treasurer. It sets forth:

Class I, (Care of insane in state institutions) $11,500

Class II, (July and elections) $24,150

Class III, (Roads and bridges and supplies in county road districts, not in special districts) $93,789.63

Class IV, (Salaries and office expenses of all county offices), $96,689.43

Class V, (Contingent and emergency) (under this class is also public welfare and health services) $53,102

Total of classes I to V, inclusive $279,231.06

Class VI, (equipment purchases and other legal expenditures) $167,695.00

States 'Phone Strike Seems 'Inevitable'

Efforts To Mediate Thus Far Have Been Futile

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—(P)—President Joseph A. Beune of the CIO Communication Workers said today that a nationwide strike of Bell telephone workers set for Wednesday now seems inevitable.

Beune said in a statement that there is no sign of progress in bargaining and that federal mediation efforts also have been unsuccessful so far.

"The gigantic telephone monopoly seems determined to force a strike," the CWA leaders said. "If that is what they want they will certainly get it."

Issues include wages, pensions and other conditions.

The union has called out 100,000 workers effective at 6 a. m. local time Wednesday. It is expected that some 200,000 others who are bound by contract against formally striking before about March 1 will refuse to cross the picket lines.

Threat By Other Groups
NEW YORK, Feb. 4—(P)—Western Electric company installation workers, 11,000 strong, threatened today to join the nationwide telephone strike set for next Wednesday morning.

Their union "division 6 of the CIO Communication Workers of America," said the walkout would take place unless a wage dispute is settled.

Numerous other groups of telephone workers are threatening a strike against the Bell system beginning at 6 a. m. (EST) Wednesday.

Western Electric is an American Telephone and Telegraph company subsidiary. The installation workers put in heavy telephone, telegraph and television equipment for A. T. & T. in 43 states.

Earl Crawford Talks to Life Underwriters

Discusses Facts Concerning The Probate Court

Earl T. Crawford, local attorney, related facts about the probate court during his address to members of the Sedalia Association of Life Underwriters at the monthly meeting, Saturday noon in the Palm Room of the Bothwell hotel.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Abe Silverman. Dick Sklar, gave a committee report concerning a movie, "To Some Must Watch" dealing with life insurance, which will be presented to the public and at high schools, sometime in March. A motion was carried that a dinner meeting in the evening would be held the latter part of March, and each member invite one or more guests to see the film.

Discussed Probate Law
Chester Wolfe, president of the Sedalia Bar Association, introduced Mr. Crawford, who discussed probate law of the state of Missouri. He said the constitution of Missouri provides that "There shall be a probate court in each county with jurisdiction on all matters pertaining to probate business to granting letters testamentary and of administration, the appointment of guardians and curators of minors and persons of unsound mind, settling the accounts of executors, administrators, curators and guardians, and the sale or leasing of lands by executors, administrators, curators and guardians and of such other matters as are provided in this Constitution. Probate courts shall be courts of record and uniform in their organization, jurisdiction and practice."

Mr. Crawford went on to say, "Whenever a person dies with a will, the will is admitted to probate."

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) related to reporters that Groves, wartime head of the atomic project, had told the Congress members that scientist Klaus Fuchs had "access to a wide area of the most vital weapons information."

The Senate-House Atomic committee asked the top G-man to testify in closed session as they sought to learn from Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves the size of the hole in America's atomic treasure chest.

Hoover already has told a Senate appropriations group, according to Senators, that Fuchs became a paid Moscow agent in 1939. He was filtered into the English atomic setup after the war broke out. The physicist then worked his way up to become a member of the British atomic mission to this country.

Fuchs was also present even at the assembly of an atomic bomb, according to this account.

Testimony Behind Closed Doors
Groves testified behind closed doors — closed, one committee member said, to keep other possible spies from hearing tips which might cause them to skip the country.

McMahon announced Groves will testify again at a public hearing Monday afternoon, after the joint committee hears Hoover behind closed doors.

McMahon said Groves told the atomic committee today that:

(1) "He had no doubt as to Fuchs' opportunity for knowing vital information" and (2) the British scientist was never subjected to an American security check, having already been cleared by his own government.

Fuchs is a naturalized citizen of Great Britain. He was born in Germany and his father now lives in the Communist zone of the former enemy nation.

Rep. Durham (D-NC), vice-chairman of the congressional atomic group said today's session discussed—without reaching a decision—whether the United States can take any action against a foreign subject who gives away U. S. secrets.

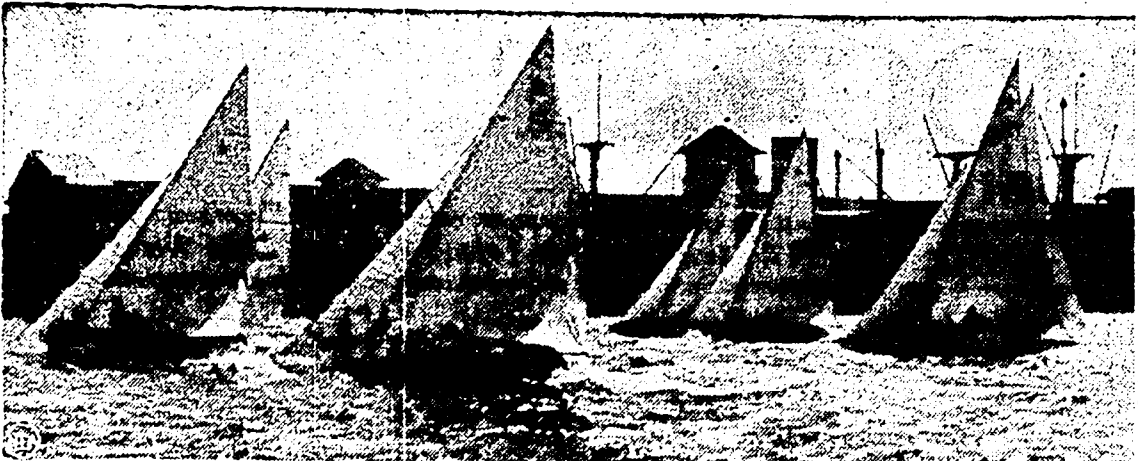

He pointed out that under American law, an offense like the one Klaus is accused of would call for the death penalty on conviction.

THE STORY: Alice Pine, literary secretary to the popular writer Mrs. Muriel Hallock, has been on the job only a short time before she realizes that something is not quite right. The storm center seems to be Brent, Muriel's artist husband, who is described as shiftless. Muriel suspects that Brent's wife was killed in an accident. Check Winner, who is described as a village loafer by the women of the village of Tolliver nearby, says Brent is a "one guy." A few days later Alice has a lunch with Molly Tremaine, who lives in Tolliver, and Molly is telling Alice all about Brent Hallock.

XII
AS Molly Tremaine paused in reciting the history of the Hallock family, Alice asked: "Was Brent's brother Bill the father of Rick—the little boy Brent and Muriel adopted?"

"Yes, Bill was the one that was killed three years ago in a plane crash. And old Jordan Hallock was Brent's father, and he wasn't a fish. But Jordan inherited the house on the Point and a few acres. Everything else had been dissipated by the time he grew up."

"So Brent inherited from Jordan?"

"No, he didn't. As I say, Jordan was no good. Wouldn't work, but gave himself the airs of a country squire. And it caught up with him." Molly finished the sandwich, lit a cigarette. "Brent must have been about 13 years old when his father had to sell the Point and the old house with it. The old man took a licking too. It was one of those really old houses, big as a country club and rambling all over. But it was a white elephant. Still, the buyers didn't care. He was a New York stockbroker with piles of money."

"Which he lost in the depression?" Alice guessed.

Molly shook her head. "They said he actually made money during those dark days. But his wife

But they sent him to the Pacific. We didn't"—she squinted—"see hide nor hair of Brent Hallock until the war had been over more than a year. You see, he got himself transferred to some outfit in the Japanese occupation. He didn't want to come home, if you ask me."

Alice frowned. "I can't imagine why."

"Who can? He finally got his discharge after Bill and his wife were killed, and there wasn't anybody else to take charge of their little boy, Rick. I'll say for Brent that he did his duty there."

Alice wanted to ask where Molly had gotten this information. But the question seemed unimportant. And, doubtless, in this small community a person's life was an open book.

"Meanwhile," said Molly, "Muriel made us like her. She took an interest in everything. Red Cross, Woman's Club and heaven knows what. And still found time for her work. Also, to tear down that old eyeglass and put up a decent house, as soon as you could get building materials again. At her own expense too."

"Then the present house is really Muriel's?" Alice remembered that stormy scene when Sloan had started to cut down the apple tree over Brent's objections and at Muriel's orders.

But even at that time, she remembered, Brent had said, insistently, that "the land and what's on it is mine." The apple tree was his, then, but his stubborn attitude about allowing it to be cut down seemed somewhat childish to Alice.

"Every stick and stone of it. And that's about the size of it. Brent came back from the war, the younger came, and there they are. But what Brent contributes, I wouldn't know."

"Well, he works constantly," Alice said, a little defensively perhaps.

Molly sniffed again. "You mean he wanders around with his painting paraphernalia. Brent couldn't work seriously and still hobnob half his time with that drunken Chuck Winsor."

The organization, with conductor Abe Rosenthal and accompanist Miss Lillian Fox (in the foreground) now appearing with the Sedalia Rotary club's Annual Institute of World Affairs in the auditorium of Smith-Cotton high school.

The club has been receiving many invitations to appear at various places around this area and have been taking a vote on all such propositions. In instances where the dates of engagements are not conflicting they have been accepting.

At the present time the thirty-six voice group have concert dates set for Houstonia, California, a Spring concert at Hubbard high school and the third annual Spring concert at Smith-Cotton. The Rotary dates are February 13th, March 6th and March 27th. The group will appear before each of these lectures and present two numbers.

On District Program

They will go to Lexington May 14th where they will appear on the program of the International Rotary club's 194 district conference. The one hour concert to be presented there in the evening will be given in the auditorium of the Lexington high school. This conference will be attended by high ranking Rotary officials from surrounding states and from clubs of many metropolitan cities. The personal representative of the president of the Rotary International, Percy Hodgson of Pau-tucket, R.I., will also be in attendance.

The picture above was taken at the club's second annual spring concert of 1949. There are several active members who are pictured and there are others in the picture who have moved from the city or have become inactive.

Cross Section of Personnel

The organization represents a cross section from the city's professional, business and religious units. The men in the club come from all walks of life such as: doctors, bankers, factory workers, clergymen, insurance salesmen, etc.

The organization has been offering Sedalia concert goers a rare quality of vocal musical entertainment and in such a manner that it appeals to all ages. The concerts that have been present here have been open to the public with no admission being charged.

Diamond Smugglers Get The Bird
LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo—(P)—Belgian officials discovered recently that South Africans and Rhodesians had taken a sudden notion for Congo parrots. Dozens were being captured by the natives and exported south. The government set up a quarantine post. While in quarantine one of the parrots died. An autopsy discovered death was due to an overdose of diamond.

Officials had found the latest way of smuggling diamonds stolen from Congo mines into Rhodesia and South Africa.

Since the discovery, parrot fanciers have fallen off considerably.

May Forego A Special Session

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb 4.—(AP)—A special session of the Louisiana legislature, planned for Sunday night opening may not be held because of a heat attack suffered by Gov. Earl K. Long.

An announcement from his office today stated that the governor, brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long, had "a slight attack" yesterday at his home in Winnfield, La.

George Wallace, executive counsel to the governor, said the session would be delayed "at least a week." Lt. Gov. William Dodd declared that the session probably would not be held at all because of the nearness to the regular biennial session in May.

In New Orleans, Dr. Robert Bernard, who attended Long today, said the Louisiana chief executive will be laid up "indefinitely."

Dr. Bernhardt, director of Charity hospital at New Orleans, said he had ordered a period of "complete rest" for the governor. This he interpreted to mean "at a very minimum thirty days."

As to the seriousness of Long's condition Dr. Bernhardt said "All heart attacks are serious."

Two Accused of Slaying Girl

PRESTONSBURG, Ky., Feb 4.—(AP)—Two prominent men were charged today with the slaying of 17-year-old Muriel Baldridge. Indictments, charging murder were returned by the Floyd county grand jury.

The body of the attractive high school cheer leader was found on the bank of the Big Sandy river last June.

Sheriff A. B. Meade said the two men had been "under suspicion almost from the start," but their names never before had officially come into the investigation.

He identified them as Lon Moles, 60, member of the Prestonsburg city school board and Chesapeake and Ohio railway agent at nearby west Prestonsburg.

E. K. Dotson, 45, former restaurant and taxi operator in Prestonsburg until his departure from the city, Meade said, about three months ago.

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill Jr., issued bench warrants for the arrest of the two men.

Moles and his wife are neighbors of the Baldridge family, and Muriel's father also is employed by the Chesapeake and Ohio railway.

He had been a patient four months suffering from a heart ailment.

Mr. Miller was an engineer on the Northern Pacific railroad with which company he had been employed since 1905.

He was formerly of Clarksburg.

Mrs. Pearl Woodson Service
Mrs. Pearl Grace Woodson, 624 East Fourteenth street, who died at Bothwell hospital Friday, were held at 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Gillespie funeral home with the Rev. David M. Bryan, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating.

Mrs. C. D. Demand sang "Shadows" and "The Old Rugged Cross" with Miss Mae Moser as the accompanist.

Pallbearers were Whitley Woodson, John G. Swope, Charles Bertrick, Jack Gree, J. C. Powell and Estill Swope.

Burial was in the family lot of Crown Hill cemetery.

Henry Conrad Eickhoff
Henry Conrad Eickhoff died at his home three miles east of Cole Camp at 7:30 p. m. February 4.

He is survived by his wife, Anna, the former Anna Von-Holten, one daughter, Alma, Mrs. Atwell Meyer, three sisters, Mrs. William Vockeman, Mrs. Katie Von Holten, Mrs. Pauline Bahnenburg, three brothers, Rudolph, Carl and Otto all of Cole Camp.

Funeral services will be held at the Renz funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Monday and services will follow at the St. Paul's Lutheran church at 2:00 p. m.

Burial will be at the Cole Camp Memorial cemetery.

Rev. H. Renz will officiate. Pallbearers will be: Webb Palmer, John Kindelworth, Ernest Bauer, Oscar Kreisell, Theodore Brauer and Lawrence Tobaben.

Ready To Act In The Coal Crisis

week in the "no contract, no work" movement.

The old contract expired last June 30, and Lewis has extended its terms indefinitely but tried to ease the load on miners by working a three-day week most of the time.

Industry observers thought the White House had at least two quick courses of action.

1. Mr. Truman could issue a direct appeal to the miners to report for work, while the government attempted anew to revive contract negotiations.

2. The President could invoke the Taft-Hartley act emergency injunction machinery. First step in that procedure would be to appoint a board of inquiry without power to recommend any settlement. An 80-day injunction could be sought after that board reported the facts to the President.

Mr. Truman's peace proposal was given to Lewis and the operators last Tuesday. It came the day before Lewis and northern and western operators, representing half of the industry, were to sit down and again tackle contract negotiations.

Those negotiations were short-lived. The operators walked out Thursday.

All major groups of operators sent word to the President before today's deadline that they would accept a fact-finding board as a solution to their nine-month dispute.

Lewis made his reply seven hours before this afternoon's deadline. It was so mysteriously worded that even the White House was puzzled by what it really meant.

Stress Inherent Right
The UMW leader never rejected the peace plan outright, but he said the miners did not wish "three strangers"—no matter how well-meaning—to fix their wages and working conditions.

"The mine workers believe that as free citizens in a free country they have an inherent right to pass upon these vital considerations themselves, and that no stranger, however sincere, should be given such power over their lives," Lewis said.

He said it was not enough that either side could reject the final recommendations of a fact-finding board, because the miners knew the President would use the injunction feature of the Taft-Hartley act to keep them at work if they turned down a fact board's plan.

"The mine workers know also, Mr. President that the heavy hand of government would not be laid concurrently on the shoulders of the coal operators as they make wassail in the privacy of their exclusive clubs," Lewis said in his reply.

Referring to the strikes and the three-day work week which Lewis imposed to hack away at the abnormally high coal reserves, Lewis said:

"For seven months since the expiration of the agreement, the mine workers have made personal sacrifices to insure the country sufficient coal. It is a travesty upon justice that they should now be plagued by a legal blackjack to satisfy the overwhelming aversion of their reactionary employers."

Then came the strong hint that the miners, if forced to work by injunction, rather than get into contempt of court again and pay treasury-wiping fines, might stage a slow-down. Lewis wrote:

"To use the power of the state to drive men into the mines, on the terms and for the profit of private employers, is involuntary servitude, violative of the spirit and perhaps of the literal text, of the 13th amendment."

"It is questionable whether one could postulate that such mass coercion would ensure enthusiastic service from grateful men."

Lewis argued that the "strangers" on a fact-finding board would "know not of the industry, nor the human beings who deliver it. . . . Such strangers cannot see into a mine worker's home, nor peer into the hearts of his loved ones."

He said they would be "ill informed" of conditions.

Battle, a frequent spokesman for the industry, said Lewis had not accepted the fact-finding proposal, so had appeared to reject it.

In an industry bulletin hours after the Lewis reply, Battle said there was "little likelihood" that the miners would work Monday.

Rally Behind Lewis
PITTSBURGH, Feb 4.—(AP)—Operators, union official said soft coal miners were virtually unanimous today in the belief that the current strike of a quarter of the nation's diggers will mushroom through the fields by Monday.

The tight-lipped miners—hungry for snowing or many of their faces—tallied behind John L. Lewis in his rejection of President Truman's 70-day peace plan.

But the 100,000 strikers showed no readiness to return to the pits on Lewis' three-day week schedule. They demanded five days.

Whether Lewis or his United Mine Workers lieutenants issued orders to stay out of the pits was not certain. There were reports of such telegrams being sent to Illinois.

In Washington, John D. Battle, executive vice president of the National Coal Association, said field reports indicated Lewis had given the word for a walkout.

Thus the four-week-old conflict in the coal fields appeared about to crystallize in complete shutdown of the vital industry.

Rationing of coal and coal-produced electric power—already in force in several cities—is expected to spread along with the strike.

The worsening condition of the nation's bituminous stockpile also probably will call for additional payoff notices in railroads, utilities, mills and other coal-using industries.

Pentecostal Bishop Muse Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb 4.—(AP)—Bishop Dan T. Muse, 67, head of the Pentecostal Holiness church throughout the world, died suddenly at his home today following a heart attack.

Bishop Muse was born in Cominth Miss, moved to Texas when he was five and then to Sapulpa, Okla., in 1900. He was a printer there.

He later came here, where he was janitor of the First Pentecostal Holiness church.

Earl Crawford Talks to Life Underwriters

will or without a will, or as lawyers say, "testate or intestate," the probate court has jurisdiction over his estate. If he leaves a will, the will is submitted to the probate court and after being duly established as the last will of the dead man by the witnesses to the will, it is admitted to probate. Letters testamentary are granted to the persons named in the will as executors. If the named persons refuses to act or be disqualified, the court shall grant letters of administration to the person to whom such letters would have been granted if there had been no will."

The speaker related, "The persons named executor must then give a bond, unless the testator has specified in his last will and testament that such named executor shall not be required to give a bond. And even where the testator makes this request in his will, any creditor or beneficiary under the will may nevertheless ask the court to require a bond, and the court then must accede if a bond shall be given by the executor."

Must Be Residents Of State
Letters testamentary and of administration shall in no case be granted to a non-resident of this state," the speaker said. He went on to say when an executor or administrator shall become non-residents the court shall upon proof revoke such letters.

"If the person who died leaves no will, after proof of the will and its admission to probate by the court, letters of administration shall be granted to the wife or husband, those entitled to distribution of the estate, or one of more of them, as the court shall believe will best manage and preserve the estate, provided, however, if the court should believe that no one of such persons are competent and suitable, he may appoint some other person as administrator," the lawyer remarked.

Time Limit
He related, "If none of the persons entitled to administer the estate, apply within 30 days for letters after the death of the deceased, the court may issue citation to him or them, on motion of any interested person, to appear and qualify for administration, giving at least five days time for that purpose, and if the person or persons so cited fail to appear, the court may grant letters to any person whom the court deems suitable."

"The administrator must give bond before undertaking his duties, in an amount not less than double the personal estate," Mr. Crawford said.

He further related that the bond is conditioned so the administrator may faithfully administer the estate, and to account for, pay and deliver all money and property of the estate and perform all other things touching the estate as shall be required by law or order of court."

This was the second straight monthly meeting, whereby wills and probate court were the topics discussed. Following the attorney's talk, a question and answer period followed.

Boy Falling In Ditch Drowns

BRANSON, Mo., Feb 4.—(AP)—The 8-year-old son of the administrator of the new Skaggs Memorial hospital here drowned today in a water-filled ditch in front of the hospital.

He is John Lindberg, son of Miss Shirley M. Lindberg, who came here in September from Milwaukee to supervise the brand new hospital, which was a gift to the Branson community from M. B. Skaggs, retired head of a grocery chain.

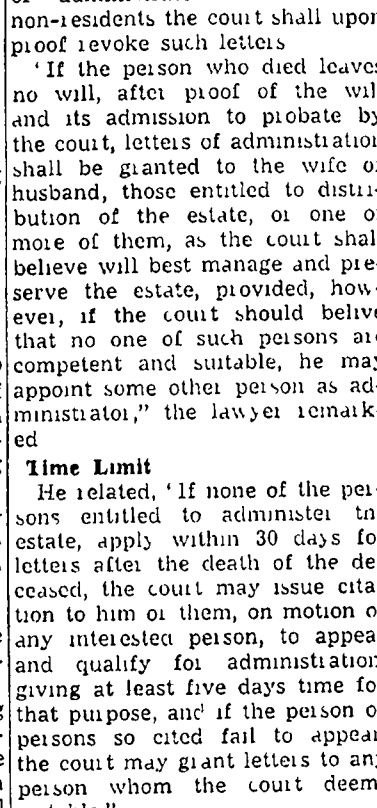

Taney county coroner Hal Foisyth said the boy dropped a toy gun while playing and fell into the ditch while trying to retrieve it. The ditch, dug for a sewer to the hospital, contained more than six feet of water, Foisyth said.

A playmate, David Robinson, 7, ran to his home for help. His father, Virgil Robinson, jumped into the water, but failed to find the boy immediately. The body

Interior of Auto Guttered By Fire

A fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $500 damage to a 1949 Chevrolet coach, Saturday night at 10:05 o'clock, which was parked at Third street and Massachusetts avenue.

The blaze gutted the inside of the motor car, owned by N. E. Schnakenberg, who told firemen he was employed in Kansas City, Kas., and did not know how the fire was started.

Two pump buckets was used to put out the blaze.

Columbia Resident Dies In A Collision

HARRISON, Ark., Feb 4.—(AP)—Two men were killed when their automobile collided on highway 65 seven miles north of here today. Three other persons were injured critically.

Killed were C. C. Coffman, about 55, Columbia, Mo., who was driving alone, and John Paul Holt, 19, of Mount Judea (Newton county), Ark., driver of the other car.

Injured were Thelma Collins, 18, Harrison, O. J. George, 19, Mount Judea, and Glenn Nally, 19, of Zinc (Boone county) Ark. Both cars were demolished.

Much of the coal found in the Durango, Colo., area is of coking quality.

Returned To State Hospital

Leonard Washington Henderson, 52, who killed his wife, Mrs. Bertha Jane Henderson, in the kitchen of their farm home on route five, last Tuesday night is confined in the state hospital at Fulton as criminally insane. This information was received by Prosecuting Attorney William F. Brown, after he began an investigation regarding Henderson's disappearance from the institution.

At the inquest held Thursday a letter was introduced from the hospital to Probate Judge A. M. Hailan, received by Judge Hailan, the morning after the murder, from the state institution of his disappearance.

Friday a notice was received from the institution by James Green, county clerk to the effect that Leonard Henderson had been paroled January 28. The letter to Judge Hailan was written on January 30, regarding the disappearance.

Mr. Brown notified the legal offices for Governor Forrest Smith of the incident and in turn Mr. Brown reported receiving a call from Dr. W. J. Cremei, M. D., superintendent of the institution, later, telling him the last report on parole was an office mistake and should have been escapee.

In the conversation, Mr. Brown said, Dr. Cremei told him Henderson was confined as criminally insane and is being treated as such.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The world is talking about two big babies to-day—the Bergman boy in Rome and our own little chunk of the sun, the hydrogen bomb.

Both come into a divided world of doubt, angry disillusionment—and divorce.

Ingrid's little lad will be only a nine-day wonder in a globe that likes to gossip about other people's public and private lives. Everybody wishes him well, and he has a fine future before him.

Our own strapping boy, the hydrogen bomb, hasn't even been born yet. But he is on the way. Just when he'll arrive is the great secret—a secret that can't last.

An Unwelcome One

And no baby in history will be more unwelcome. His father is fear and his mother is science, and he can't be anything but a problem child.

If he turns out to be a real juvenile delinquent, well—we all will walk a tightrope over death.

Every generation begins as a prisoner of the generation that spawned it, and ends as a caretaker of the generation that brought it into being.

What can we do for this ugly, unwanted child of our despair—and how will it take care of us as time makes it older and stronger? What crib can we build even now to hold it?

As the years go on other nations will have more of these hideous offspring, and so will we, and what will we do with them all? Once the first one is let go, they will all be free, and like maddened children they will turn against their creators and destroy us. There is no blinder wrath than that of an angry child, because it knows no control.

Manhood Lost Control

The mere conception of this terrible creature shows mankind, too, has lost control of itself. What, then, can it expect of its baby? The hydrogen bomb is the last, best—perhaps hopeless—argument for planned parenthood in the political realm.

Once it is born and turns bad there will be no dark closet to punish it in. But it can shut us up in a dark closet itself, and close the door behind us.

And the hydrogen bomb will then be a happy, happy orphan. A child is a problem and people's oughtn't to have one unless they can do so happily and in hope—together.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—(AP)—Hollywood's male Crawford has a solution to the problem of movies versus television.

This Crawford is Broderick Crawford and his solution to the conflict that has motion picture magnates gnawing each other's fingernails is:

"Turn out the B-grade, or low budget, pictures for television—and the A-grade, high-cost pictures for the film theaters."

Crawford—no relation to Hollywood's female Crawford, Joan—thinks it is foolish for the film industry to war against television as it once tried to battle radio.

"Right now the movie actors are screaming to get on television," he said, "but the studios won't let them."

Means Better Product

"Television won't stop the making of movies. It should, however, force the studios to make a better product."

"The people—the cash customers—are shopping around now for entertainment. This isn't wartime. They won't pay just to see anything, but they'll pay anything to see something that is really good."

Crawford is in a position to know something about that. Son of the well-known actress Helen Broderick, he made an excellent name for himself on Broadway but spent a dozen years on the west coast before hitting the jackpot.

W. F. Baer (left) stands at the entrance to a tunnel he dug through big 14-foot snowdrifts at Ferndale, Wash., to reach his back door. Baer's house is visible behind the drift. (AP PHOTO)

Actor of the Year

He did it last year in "All the King's Men," an adult picture in which he played Gov. Willie Stark, who resembles the late Huey Long. Eighty leading Hollywood correspondents in an AP poll voted it the best film of 1949 and named Crawford the actor of the year.

Right now Broderick, a big, bluff, easy-going ex-sergeant, is the ranking candidate for an academy "Oscar" next month. But he has been acting too long to count on it.

He feels one reason "All the King's Men" turned out so well is the off-hand manner in which it was made.

"You want to know a secret?" he said. "It was shot off the cuff."

"Nobody in the cast had a script and only Robert Rossen, the director and producer, really knew what he was doing."

Can't Get Bored

"He let us all read the script—once—then took it away from us. Not knowing the dialogue until two minutes before the camera starts grinding really keeps an actor on his toes. It's a wonderful way to work. You don't have time to get bored with your lines."

Rossen also used townspeople around Stockton, Calif., for minor roles and crowd scenes and Crawford believes that made for naturalness. It certainly has in foreign-produced films.

"One trouble with Hollywood is you can't tell for sure yourself whether a picture is good or bad until you get it out of town," grinned Crawford.

The last time I had seen Crawford was in 1944 in Belgium and he was wearing an army uniform. He had dropped in on a war correspondent's party. When I asked if he remembered the occasion, he said:

"Do I? They took me for my last cent in a crap game that night."

He'd be much better pickings now. He was only drawing a sergeant's pay then.

Plans are being pushed to complete the Cairo, Egypt, to Cape Town railroad which, if finished, will be 10,000 miles long, the longest in the world.

Dogs Ride Motorcycles

SYDNEY, Australia.—(AP)—In the far west of South Australia, where they don't figure sheep to the acre but reckon square miles to the sheep and young ranch hands are motor mechanics not horsemen, it is not unusual to see a motorcycle snorting along narrow, winding sheep paths with a dog standing on the pillion, its tail feathering in the wind, giving as good a display of trick riding as could be seen in any circus.

When the rider halts the machine, the dog, often a Border Collie, leaps away and, before a cigarette can be rolled and smoked, will muster a herd of 500 to 600 half-wild ewes and lambs from the dusty scrub.

Sue For Return Of Use Tax Funds

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Three Kansas Citizens filed a suit in Cole county circuit court late Friday for recovery of money paid the state under the outlawed Missouri "use tax."

James T. Blair, Jr., lieutenant governor, filed the action as resident attorney for the plaintiffs.

The case is a "class suit" designed to obtain a test decision on behalf of thousands of persons who paid an estimated total of $750,000 to $800,000 in use taxes on automobiles.

The Kansas City plaintiffs and the amounts they claim are: Melvin Kleban (4942 Walnut), $42; Harry Sager, $47.98; and Maurice H. Schwartz, $45.

The use tax law required that persons who bought automobiles outside of Missouri and used them inside the state had to pay a 2 per cent tax. The legislature intended for the law to plug a loophole in collection of the state sales tax.

However, the Missouri supreme court ruled last November that the law was unconstitutional.

G. H. Bates, head of the revenue department, estimated the state collected $750,000 to $800,000 while the law was in effect from July, 1948, to Nov. 12, 1949.

Bates said tonight his records show who paid the tax and how much each person paid. He said he was willing to return the money, but that he could not do so without an appropriation from the legislature.

Named as defendants in the case are Bates, the state treasurer, the state auditor, and a Jefferson City bank (Central Missouri Trust Co.) as a state depository.

Kansas City attorneys for the plaintiffs are Solbert M. Wasserstrom, and the firm of Spencer, Britt and Browne.

The sixty-voice Morningside college choir of Sioux City, Iowa. The choir, under the conductorship of Paul MacCollin, director of the Morningside Conservatory of Music will appear at the First Methodist church Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock.

The Morningside college choir of Sioux City, Iowa, will present a program of sacred music at the First Methodist church Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock.

The choir, under the direction of Paul MacCollin, director of the Morningside Conservatory of Music, is now on tour throughout the South and Midwest.

Outstanding as one of the pioneer choral groups in unaccompanied singing, the sixty voice choir is recruited from the student body of Morningside college each year. Elimination try-outs are held and only few and the most capable contestants attain a position in the choir.

The tour into this part of the country has not been made since the war. In 1949 the group toured extensively in northern Iowa and western Illinois.

The Morningside choir is well known throughout the country for its unusually fine presentation of sacred and secular music. A free will offering will be received for the choir.

The program to be presented Tuesday night will be as follows:

- "Jesus! Dulcis Memoria"..... Palestrina
- "Hosanna to the Son of David"..... Gibbons
- "Our Days Are As a Shadow"..... Bach
- "Sing Ye to the Lord"..... Bach
- "Night and a Lonely Star"..... Christiansen
- "Jubilate"..... Burkhardt
- "Celestial Choirs Are Singing"..... Mackenzie
- "Finale from the Apostrophe" and "To the Heavenly Host"..... Willan
- "Song to the Night"..... Dunn
- "In Dulci Jubilo"..... Christiansen
- "Song of Mary"..... Fischer
- "Hosanna"..... Christiansen

Guinea Pig in Modern Ships, For Use in Next World War

By John A. Moroso

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(AP)—The aircraft carrier Oriskany—a guinea pig in modern fighting ships—is the latest thing the navy has devised for use in a possible third world war.

When finally commissioned, she will be the product of intensive research from studies made of the Bikini atom bomb tests and from postwar improvements in radar, plane developments and other technical matters—many of them still secret.

The Oriskany has been subject to numerous and costly changes since she was laid down in the New York navy yard in Brooklyn May 1, 1944. She was one of the Essex class carriers ordered in 1940. Later this class was increased to 24 vessels officially listed at 27,000 tons, but actually 33,000 fully loaded.

Named for a Revolutionary war battle fought in 1777 in Oneida county, N. Y., the Oriskany was launched Oct. 13, 1945. Ten months later the navy announced her completion had been delayed because of an economy drive.

Decided to Rebuild
Then it was decided to rebuild her at a reported cost of $80,000,000 to make her the most modern ship in her class.

She is being modified to operate larger aircraft—jet propelled planes capable of carrying atom bombs at long range. This called for longer lifts, more powerful catapults, a stronger flight deck and more space for the stowage of plane fuel.

Additional armor plate topside meant that more steel had to be added to her keel to counter balance the extra weight. A navy spokesman said the three-inch plate "will keep the bombs from coming through too fast." The additional features also will increase her tonnage considerably.

Her listed speed is 33 knots—a speed usually considered a safe guarantee against submarine warfare.

Would Carry 82 Planes
As originally designed, the Oriskany would carry 82 planes with a top capacity of 107 with close stowage. She is 888 feet long, has a 93-foot beam and a draft of 29 feet. Her wartime crew calls for about 3,000 officers, aviators and enlisted men. In peacetime she will operate with about 2,400 men, including the air group.

She will be heavily equipped with anti-aircraft guns including 10 five-inch rifles, more than 44 forty millimeter guns and 52 twenty millimeter guns in quadruple mounts. Her engines will operate at 150,000 horsepower.

At the moment, the ship is in drydock. Hundreds of technicians and workmen swarm over her. She is the only vessel under construction in the once busy yards in Brooklyn.

The commissioning is expected to be in June.

Update New York citizens received permission from the treasury department to dedicate all the proceeds from several war bond drives to construction of the Oriskany.

How do these Telephone Wages and Working Conditions look to you?

Good Pay

Telephone operators here with a year's experience average $39 weekly earnings. With five years' experience they average $44. At top rates, their earnings average $46 a week. These figures include extra pay for work on Sundays, holidays, and evening shifts.

Plant craftsmen with one year's experience average $43 a week; with five years', $64 a week; and at top rate, $78 a week for jobs such as central office repairman. Extra pay received for overtime and for night, Sunday, and holiday work is included in these figures.

Regular Raises

Telephone men and women receive regular, progression increases in wages from the time they start until they reach their top rates. These raises come along regularly every three months, six months, or a year according to a definite schedule. More than three fourths of our employees will receive a raise—or raises—this year.

Good Working Conditions

Seven holidays a year with pay. Up to three weeks' paid vacation. Steady employment. Good opportunities for advancement.

Benefit and Pension Plan

Minimum pensions for employees with 20 years' service are $100 a month at age 65, including Social Security. Many employees get substantially more. The plan also includes liberal payments for Sickness, Disability, Accident, and Death. The benefits are at no cost to the employee.

Higher Wages Affect Telephone Rates

There are no big profits in the telephone business. Earnings of the company are at a record low. The present cost of wage increases granted during the war and postwar years to Southwestern Company employees is $76,000,000. That is two and one-half times the $28,600,000 increase in telephone rates granted so far to this company. Nearly $11,000,000 of this amount is being collected under bond and is subject to possible refund.

No Reason for "Fourth-Round" Increase

Any way you look at it telephone people are doing all right. They have good wages, good working conditions, liberal benefits and pensions. There is no justification for the union's demand for another wage increase which would further increase the cost to the telephone user, who pays the bill for wages as well as for all other costs.

Eddie Cantor Tours Colleges For Youth Study

By Mark Barron
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Eddie Cantor, who is father of five daughters and should know all about the younger generation from personal experience, is on a lecture tour of 40 colleges and universities to learn about youth.

The banjo-eyed, 57-year-old comedian is learning, too, because the youngsters are teaching him plenty. "I started out the other night at the University of Maine in Orono, Me.," he said. "No opening night I've ever had on Broadway thrilled me so much. It was snowing and the night before final examinations. The students were parading around the auditorium carrying signs which read: 'Hear Cantor and Flunk.' In other words, if the kids came to hear me, they couldn't stay home and cram."

"I've never been so complimented as by the fact that the youngsters turned out that night to such an extent that they overflowed the college auditorium and Dr. Hauck, president of the university finally had to order the doors shut and turn away many."

Honorary Degree
"Dr. Hauck honored me with an honorary degree of professor humor, but I cautioned him to make it a very small chair."

Cantor stood up for his lecture at the University of Maine, but says he is going to sit down in a very comfortable chair at his future lectures at Cornell, Rice Institute, Hunter college, University of Oklahoma, Southern Methodist university, Texas Christian university, University of California at Los Angeles and dozens of others.

It isn't a straight lecture, as a college professor gives, that Cantor presents on this tour. Eddie breaks up his talks by going to the piano, singing songs, once in awhile doing a dance and other such folderols to make his speeches as entertaining as any of his performances in the Ziegfeld "Follies" and other Broadway hits.

No Television Yet
Along with it he is also doing his daily NBC broadcast on the "Take It Or Leave It" program as well as guest appearances on other programs. He hasn't quite arrived at television yet, but is studying the Video field.

Cantor recalled the other afternoon that Ziegfeld had an odd habit when he produced "Whooppee" with Eddie singing the leading role.

"Ziegfeld would come in for every performance at the certain moment when I was to sing the song 'Whoopie,'" Eddie said. "That was at precisely 9:15 p.m. each night. The moment the song was ended he would walk out. He did that night after night for the 1,000 performances that we ran. 'Whoopie' was a song like 'Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean' in that it had a standard lyric and many choruses. Because the show ran so long I often had the choruses changed and discarded the ones I had been singing for some time."

Visited Churchill
"When the show played in London I was invited after opening night to visit Mr. Winston Churchill. He had seen the show and when I came in he asked: 'Eddie, how many choruses of 'Whoopie' do you know?'"

"Then he proceeded to sing me at least 50 choruses, many of which I had used in the early run of the show and had completely forgotten. After he had seen the show, he had bought a complete manuscript and memorized every word of the song from the time it had come first from the pen of the composer."

Cantor has this summation

VISALIA, Calif.—(AP)—Rev. and Mrs. Pedro Gonzalez Carranza, of the Mission Evangelica Bautista tell this story:

It was almost midnight on Christmas Eve and the pastor and his wife were troubled. They knew that within their parish scores of poor youngsters would go igttelss. They prayed. As they finished there was a knock on the door. "Perhaps it is a couple wishing to be married," sighed the clergyman. But the visitors turned out to be a Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilson. Wilson handed the pastor a piece of paper. "We want you to use this for the children," he said. The check was sufficient to buy gifts for more than 140 children.

Mary Lucille Reid Married Saturday To Minnesota Doctor

Miss Mary Lucille Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Reid, of Dal-Whi-Mo became the bride of Dr. John Joseph Eusterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Eusterman, of Lewiston, Minn., at a nuptial mass at Sacred Heart church at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning. The Reverend Father Andrew J. Brunswick, pastor, officiated.

The vows were taken before an altar on which were bouquets of pink snapdragons, with a background of palms and huckleberry. The bridal party approached the altar down the center aisle, lighted candleabra entwined with semilax on the edge of the pews enhancing the beauty of the church and sanctuary with its flowers, plants and lighted candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was led to the altar as Mrs. Earl Paxton, organist, played Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was the recessional. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Paxton played "At Dawning," "I Love You Truly," and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." During the mass A. Dominique sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother," Gounod's "Ave Marie" and "Panis Angelicus."

The bride's wedding gown was of pale pink satin, fashioned with long fitted princess bodice, a modified Elizabethan collar inset with matching shadow lace and long court train. Her satin cap had a face framing cuff of the same lace as used on the bridal gown. The finger-tip pink illusion was worn over her face during the ceremony. She carried a shower bouquet of palest pink carnations.

Miss Betty Reid and Miss Joan Reid, sisters of the bride, were maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. They wore identical dresses of American Beauty taffeta in princess style with off-the-shoulder draped berthas. Their draped bandeaux of taffeta held short flaring veils of dyed-to-match net. Their long mitts and slippers were in American Beauty color and they carried Biarritz roses tied with leaf green satin ribbon.

Attending the bridegroom were his brothers, Francis J. Eusterman, best man and James Eusterman, groomsmen. Both are from Lewiston, Minn. Ushers were John Forrestal, Winona, Minn., brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Charles J. Cotterman, Sedalia, cousin of the bride; Dr. J. H. McMahan, St. Louis and Stanley Simonett, Mankota, Minn.

Mrs. Reid, the bride's mother wore a powder blue wool dress, navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Eusterman, the bridegroom's mother, wore a turquoise crepe dress, gray accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Ambassador room of the Bothwell hotel for the immediate relatives and out-of-town guests.

The couple left late in the afternoon for a two-week honeymoon at Point Clear, Ala. The bride's going away costume was a champagne colored gaberdine suit with matching hat, red top coat, cocoa brown accessories.

Dr. and Mrs. Eusterman will be at home after March 1 at 817 South Second street, Mankota, Minn.

Miss Reid, now Mrs. Eusterman, was born and reared in Sedalia, a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles McEniry and Mrs. Jessie Reid and the late Wm. W. Reid. She attended Sacred Heart grade school, Smith-Cotton high school, St. Teresa's College, Kansas City, was graduated from Fontbonne College, St. Louis. She has recently been employed as a teacher by the Normandy School System of St. Louis county.

Dr. Eusterman attended St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn., Creighton university, Omaha, Neb., School of Medicine and has just completed a residency in internal medicine at the Veterans Administration hospital, Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis. He will practice medicine in Mankota, Minn.

Among the out of town guests were: from St. Louis: Miss Bar-

Mrs. John Joseph Eusterman, until her marriage Saturday morning Miss Mary Lucille Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Reid, of 410 Dal-Whi-Mo Court. Dr. Eusterman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Eusterman, of Lewiston, Minn.

Exchange Vows In Living Room Of Bride's Home

Miss Norma Jean Shelledy, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Shelledy, 1410 South Osage avenue, became the bride of Mr. Doyle D. Furnell, son of Mrs. D. S. Furnell, 1941 East Sixth street at eight o'clock, January 27. Elder Harris Adams of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints performed the double ring ceremony. The vows were exchanged in the living room of the bride's home underneath an arch covered with huckleberry and white carnations and tied with pink and white satin ribbon. On either side of the arch were eight white tapers.

Preceding the ceremony Elder Harris Adams sang "Through the Years" as Miss Midge Butler atired in an aqua satin afternoon dress and Miss Deloris Furnell wearing an old rose taffeta afternoon dress lighted the tapers. Both girls wore corsages of white carnations. Mr. Albert Pringle, Jr. played a violin solo "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and following this "Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus."

The bride chose for her wedding a powder blue chiffon afternoon dress and navy accessories. She wore a hair corsage of white carnations and carried a colonial bouquet of white lillies, gardenias and baby breath.

Mrs. Fred Rhodes, sister of the bridegroom was matron of honor. She wore a peach taffeta after-bara Beckemeyer, Miss Patricia Quinn, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Bussmann, Miss Patsy Rissler, Miss Kathleen Trainor, Mrs. F. B. Long, Jr., Dr. Martin Eisele, Dr. James McGlew, Mr. E. G. McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Crosby, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Arnold, Sr., and Mrs. Douglas Glasgow.

From Kansas City: Mrs. R. G. O'Maley, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Meserly, Miss Mary McGinley. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Knies of Jefferson City, Mr. Edward Hurley, Springfield, Miss Ann La Rue, Columbia, Mr. Richard Krost, and Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Schmitz of Mankota, Minn.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Eusterman, his uncle, Mr. V. Dedrick and Mrs. Dedrick of Owatonna, Minn., his sister, Mrs. John Forrestal and Mr. Forrestal of Winona, Minn., and others mentioned in the wedding party.

noon dress and hair corsage of yellow carnations. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations and blue iris.

Mr. Duane Furnell, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mr. Joseph Furnell was the usher.

Mrs. Mildred Shelledy, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. D. S. Furnell, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Shelledy, and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shelledy and daughters of Springfield, Mo.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the bridegroom's home. The bride's table was covered with a hand crocheted lace table cloth. In the center of the table was a three-tier wedding cake decorated with pink roses and silver leaves and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. On either side of the cake, which was encircled with fern, there were two burning white tapers.

After the first piece of cake was cut by the bride and bridegroom the cake was served by Miss Midge Butler. Miss Geraldine Toboben served the punch. Mrs. Pearl Coffey was acting hostess and Miss Delores Furnell had charge of the guest book.

During the reception Elder Harris Adams, accompanied by Miss Geraldine Toboben, sang "I Love You Truly."

Immediately following the reception the couple left on a week-end honeymoon through the Ozarks.

Forty guests attended the reception.

The bride who is employed at Boies drug store is a graduate of Smith-Cotton high school.

The bridegroom also a graduate of Smith-Cotton is a lumber dealer in Sedalia.

The couple will reside at 1003 South Lamine avenue.

Miss Martha Scott, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Scott, 246 South Prospect avenue, was a guest at the wedding of Miss Nancy Billings and Mr. Russell Colvin, Jr., which took place at 4:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Kansas City, at the Grace and Holy Trinity Cathedral.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Billings, of Kansas City.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Fifty years ago, January 25, 1900, Miss Ophelia Mothersbaugh became the bride of Mr. Elbert R. Evans at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Mothersbaugh.

Last Sunday, January 29, Mr. and Mrs. Evans celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home five miles northeast of Florence, being honored with a reception arranged by their three daughters, Miss Gladys Evans, of Independence, Mrs. C. R. Gottschalk, of Knob Noster, and Miss Beatrice Evans, of Danville, Va.

The three-tiered golden wedding cake, baked by Mrs. C. R. Gottschalk, was decorated with gold ornaments, and on either side were yellow candles. The table cloth was of white silk cloth of Oriental design, a gift of Mr. Evans' niece, Mrs. Mable Veatch, of Honolulu, Hawaii. Vases of yellow roses decorated the home.

Mrs. Evans' corsage was an orchid and as a boutonniere Mr. Evans wore a yellow rose, sent by Miss Beatrice Evans, whose duties as a teacher in a girls' college at Danville prevented her from being present at the reception.

Miss Gladys Evans was in charge of the serving of wedding cake, coffee and lemonade to about 60 guests, including relatives and a few close friends. She was assisted by Mrs. Edith Mar-

To Present 'The Man Who Came to Dinner'

"The Man Who Came to Dinner," first production of the Pettis Players, which will be presented at the Smith-Cotton auditorium on March 1, promises to be an entertaining play with talent shown in all phases of the producing of such a play.

Mrs. John Metcalf

Particularly outstanding has been the work of Mrs. John Metcalf, who is co-director of the Pettis Players with Michael Bogutski. Mrs. Metcalf was quite active in Little Theatre work in New Orleans, La., before coming to Sedalia to make her home, and worked as an amateur at Le Petit Theatre du Vieux Cere. She did acting, directing, make-up, painting scenery, prompting and various other things in theatre work.

Also, she understudied "Maggie" in the production, "The Man," the ingenue of the play, "George Washington Slept Here" and did bits in "Our Town" and "Kiss the Boys Goodbye," as well as going radio work at WWL in Laboratory Production.

Mrs. Metcalf is interested in forming a permanent Little Theatre group for Sedalia, and has worked in the organizing and furthering of the plans of this city's newest group, the Pettis Players, which now has 35 members. They are working hard on rehearsals for the play soon to be presented and anyone interested in the dramatic organization is invited to become a member.

PTA Council in Old Fashioned Home

The Sedalia Council of Parents and Teachers observed Founders' Day, Wednesday at the First Methodist church with a covered dish luncheon and a program with costumes appropriate to the 53rd anniversary of the founding of P.T.A.

The luncheon tables were decorated to represent each month of the year and guests were seated at the table of their birth month.

The January table was decorated with balloons and paper hats; February with a gumdrop tree made of hearts; March with the green and white of St. Patrick's;

April and May with Maypoles; June with an altar and wedding party; July with firecrackers and drums; August with State Fair scenes; September with back to school scenes; October with Halloween; November with the horn of plenty and turkeys; December with a tree and ornaments for Christmas.

Members of the council wore dresses in the fashions of the past 50 years.

The devotional was given by Rev. Roy Bowers and the presidents of various units introduced their members who were present. Council officers who were hostesses for the luncheon were: Mesdames Fred Anton, Frank Lewis, C. Byron Gates, and John League. Special guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Bowers, Miss Edyth Coucy, Miss Lida Burress and Mrs. Kurth Riley, district president, Mrs. Verney Engheim, Mrs. L. W. Duly and Mrs. Virgil Ragar were appointed members of the nominating committee.

The meeting closed with the singing of old songs by the group with Mrs. Ralph Salmon at the piano.

Young People Take Part in Service

The 'Sacrament of the Lord's Supper' will be administered in the Fifth Street Methodist church at 10:30 Sunday morning.

The Young People's division will sing a special number and receive communion as a group. Vocal solo, "My Kind of People" by Donna Marie Robinson. Larry Cottingham, Worship Chairman, will give a short talk on "The Church." Visiting Scout Troops and Cub Packs will be given the opportunity of taking the Communion together.

Veterans Are Interested in 'Battleground'

Through the veterans' organizations, the U. S. Army recruiting office and the National Guard, a number of Sedalians and residents of this area were included in a story last week which established that quite a number of servicemen from this vicinity were with combat groups which were sent to the relief of the beleaguered 101st Airborne Division at Bastogne in the December, 1944 Battle of the Bulge Campaign as depicted in part in "Battleground", the new war motion picture which opens Sunday at the Fox theatre. Interest in the film has run high, principally because co-star John Hodiak is cast as a Sedalia newspaperman-turned-G.I.

While the original list of local servicemen was known to be incomplete, as is this additional list, various sources have supplied the names of these Sedalians and Pettis Countians who also played a part in the relief at Bastogne: Harold Anderson, Albert Bennett, Jack Fulton, Robert Forsberg, Herschel Decker, Woodrow Simmons, Leonard Sigman, Alva Moffit, Marion Johnson, Kenneth Clifford, J. D. Stratton, Willis Hayes, Orville Dotson, James Guest, Wm. Eckles, Charles Ford, David Sneathen, James Burk, Winfred Holcroft, Oliver Hunter, Louis Hall, Joe Dirk, Junior Paxton, James Hudson, Charles Morrison, Lawrence Marty, Rex Case, Walter Shipp, Denver Miller, John Dillon, Riley Hayworth, George Hartman, Oliver Moore, Olin Barklage, Roy Miller, Cluster Logan and Jack Bryson, all of the firing battery of a field artillery battalion which, during the war, was made up largely from personnel of the original Sedalia National Guard 128th Field Artillery Regiment.

Matter of History
Lloyd Phillips supplies the information that the 59th Anti-craft, of the 87th Division, helped complete the pincers movement which turned the tables on the German Army in the Battle of the Bulge by coming up from the opposite side of the 101st Airborne Division in Belgium, and that in addition to himself, other Sedalians he remembers in the unit included John Craig, Harry Small, John O'Brien and Harland Cramer. While "Battleground" concerns itself chiefly with a small sector at Bastogne, it is of interest, and a matter of history, that these units, liberally sprinkled with Sedalians, played a primary part in the relief of the famous "Screaming Eagles" of the 101st Airborne Division.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

T. W. Bast, the architect, is completing the plans for the woman's building at the Missouri State fair grounds and will have them finished in the next ten days. The building is to be of brick and will have a ladies' rest room, reception room, dining hall and other rooms, some being for exhibition purposes.

A force of forty men is to be put to work in the laying of a new brick platform at the Missouri Pacific station. Material for the improvement has just arrived.

Ernest Thompson and John T. Stinson gave talks on fruit culture at the meeting of the Pettis County Anti-Trespass Association held in the county court room Saturday.

C. M. Hunt, trainmaster for the Missouri Pacific, made a trip to Pleasant Hill on company business.

Henry W. Harris, James K. Kidd and Leo Bloss each purchased from John R. Dillon a 1910 model 30 Cadillac touring car, fully equipped, to be shipped the latter part of the coming week. Each machine cost $1,800.

Jack Benny Doesn't Claim to Be a Mathematical Wizard

By Wayne Oliver

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(P)—Jack Benny doesn't claim to be a mathematical wizard, but he can tell the difference between four million and 85 million without even his glasses.

That's the current ratio between television sets and radio sets in the United States. So the CBS comedian is content to perch on radio's throne a while longer before bidding for a place in Video's growing but much smaller domain.

Benny, currently atop the Hooper radio audience ratings and always one of the leaders, says that when television has 10 or 15 million sets in use "we'll all have to get in."

May Try Television
The Waukegan wit may take a whirl at television next season—Rochester, Maxwell and all—depending on the plans of his sponsor (American Tobacco Co.). But he expects it to be on an occasional basis, perhaps once in three months, "to make it an event."

When he goes into television regularly, Benny says he will hold out for an every-other-week basis, and probably will ask to be relieved of his radio program.

"It's impossible to do anything good on television on a once a week basis with our type show," says Benny, in from Hollywood for a brief New York stay.

Benny explains that although everyone in his radio show has been with him from 11 to 18 years, there still are major changes to be made as late as Saturday rehearsals for the Sunday night broadcasts.

Week To Prepare Show
"It takes us a whole week to prepare the radio show," he points out. "So how are you going to do all that, learn lines and positions by heart, and do a good television show every week?"

Meanwhile, Benny says any very good radio program will not have too much trouble from television for some time to come "although a mediocre radio program will not be able to compete with even mediocre television."

After the novelty of television has worn off with a viewer, Benny says, it had better have a good program on the air or he will turn back to radio. That's provided, of course, radio has a top notch show going on at the same time.

Halt Higher Rates Collecting

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 4.—(P)—Southwestern Bell Telephone company's collection of higher rates in Kansas was halted Friday by the state supreme court.

The high court halted collection of the increase by allowing a state corporation commission application to stay execution of a district court order authorizing the utility to install temporary rates of its own choosing. The higher rates were to have been collected under bond pending a final ruling in the protracted rate case.

Today's supreme court ruling holds up collection of an approximate $3,400,000 annual rate hike pending a further order by the high court.

At the same time, the supreme court set two appeals in the rate controversy for hearing April 6, 1950.

One is from the order of District Judge Dean McElhenny on Jan. 16 granting the telephone company's application for an injunction prohibiting the corporation commission from interfering with installation of the higher Kansas rates.

The other is from a decision of District Judge Paul Heinz late in 1949 overruling a corporation commission order dismissing Southwestern Bell's permanent rate increase application.

Some subscribers already have been charged the higher rates under the utility's system of distributing billings throughout the month.

CBC Wins Sedalia Lions Tournament Over Columbia 55-53

Consolation Game Went To the Rolla Rockets 42-43 Over Versailles Merchants

Central Business College of Sedalia is the champion-ship team of the Third Annual Missouri Independent Basketball championship tournament, sponsored by the Sedalia Lions club. C. B. C. defeated the strong Semmon's Furniture Co., team of Columbia, by a score of 55 to 53. The Rolla Rockets sponsored by the Pick-Ware Nash Motors Co., Rolla was the third place winner defeating the Versailles Merchants by a score of 62 to 43.

The championship tilt, which featured the playing of several College Stars, was a nip-and-tuck affair from the tip-off at the beginning until the horns sounded ending the game. Starting off even in the first quarter with a 12-12 tie the CBC aggregation tried to pull away in the second quarter but time and again the lead switched from Sedalia to Columbia and back again. At the half time period the local team had a five point lead of 30 to 25.

Nip And Tuck Period
Tearing off to a fair start in the second half the College boys of Sedalia took a seven point lead and barely held an edge at the end of that period of 39 to 35. In the fourth stanza of the contest Columbia took a minute lead of 42-41 only to have it tied up because of a foul and the free throw was good. From then on CBC had the lead even if it was only by one to two points with the final scoring showing Sedalia 55 and Columbia 53.

The game was one studied with former College stars and had the appearance of a real college game. There was Artie Elwell, former MIAA All-Star player from the Warrensburg Mules playing with CBC as was Harold Salmon also a former MIAA All-Star. Norman Thompson who played at Bolivar while on the other side came Fred Hulse, Sedalia boy who with Kenneth Bounds, Martin Sauer Missouri university football stars, and Wilbur Volz a former M. U. star battling the Central Business College aggregation.

Scoring Honors To Elwell
Scoring honors of the game went to Elwell who tallied 15 points with six goals and three free-throws, and Thompson next with 14-points, five goals and four free-throws. For Columbia Leonard Koenigsdorf, dropped through the basket six goals for 12-points with Hulse, Volz and Dick Rischer dividing second honors with nine-points each.

President Bohling Pleased
Atwell Bohling, president of Central Business College, sponsor- or of the championship ball club, following the game said "I'm very very happy over the outcome and the championship game was wonderful—even if we did win. It was a well played game on the part of Columbia and as well as our team and both were about evenly matched, the score shows that."

"The boys displayed good sportsmanship regardless of the closeness of the score which sometimes brings out the unsports- manship of a player when under pressure. As a matter of fact all of the games in the tournament were well played and I am proud of the showing of Central Business College."

"I also want to congratulate the Sedalia Lions club on the nice way they carried out the tournament and I am personally pleased in every way the way it was run. Such sports as the past tournament is a compliment to Sedalia." Mr. Bohling concluded.

Rolla Rockets 62 Versailles 43
Third place honors of the tournament went to the Rolla Rockets, over the Versailles Merchants by a score of 62 to 43. The Rockets played along their steady brand of ball while Versailles appeared worn out from their previous games. Certainly the Merchants were not up to their par in comparison with other games they played during the week. The loss gave Versailles fourth place.

Scoring was started by the Rockets in the first few seconds of the game and it wasn't until after the Rockets had scored six points did the Merchants hit the basket. From then on it was a steady climb in the scoring department for the Rockets. At the quarter time the Rockets led 13 to 7. The second period scoring was about even with the Rockets getting 15 points while Versailles scored 13, and the half ended with the Rockets leading 28 to 20.

All-Star Players Of Third Annual Lions Tournament

Don McMillen, Windsor Arthur Porter, Versailles, Glenn Bell, Rolla Rockets Dick Rischer, Columbia Harold Salmon, CBC Sedalia Robert Garrison, Versailles Leonard Koenigsdorf, Columbia Artie Elwell, CBC Sedalia Kenneth Bounds, Columbia Norman Thompson, CBC Sedalia

The All-Star team of the Third Annual Missouri Independent Basketball Championship tournament, sponsored by the Sedalia Lions club, held at the Convention hall, Liberty park, the past week. The team was the selection of the three tournament officials, R. E. "Rocky" Carver, P. A. Silvers and Harold Glavin, who worked the entire tournament games.

Rockets sent through the first goal while Versailles came back hurriedly to erase that one, the game gradually went on ice for the Rolla aggregation, who scored 17 points while the Merchants were able to collect but ten points. The third stanza saw Rolla with 45 points and Versailles 30. In the fourth quarter the Rockets scored six points early to increase their lead by 21 points, Versailles seemingly unable to keep possession of the ball, and even their shots were barely getting near the basket. Versailles shot often at the basket but failed to connect. The game ended with the Rockets having 62 and Versailles 43.

Robert Garrison of the Merchants scored 20 o. the Versailles points to be high point man of the game. He made five goals and ten free shots. Wendell Crain was Rolla's high point man with 15, making six goals and three free throws.

Friday Night Games

Central Business College 50 Rolla Mo., Rockets 41.
Central Business College of Sedalia won their game with the Rolla Mo. Rockets, sponsored by the Pick-Ware Nash Motor Co., of Rolla, Friday night, 50 to 41. But it wasn't won until after a hard tussle from the very start. It was anybody's contest up to the last three minutes of the game when the College lads put on a drive which put them ahead nine points.

CBC Scores First
Sedalia scored on a free throw, got another free shot and it was 2 points to zero. A second later it was tied, 2-2, and in this quarter other tie scores went as follows: 4-4; 6-6 and 9-9, and fight to the finish was in progress. The quarter ended Rockets 13 CBC 10. The second quarter it appeared as if maybe the Rockets would go to the finals scoring fourteen points to nine for CBC and the halftime scoreboard was Rockets 27 CBC 19.

In the third quarter the battle was on again and the CBC players went in after points running up sixteen points while Rockets got ten, and the period ended CBC 35 Rockets 37. Once in the third quarter they were tied 33-33. Then the fourth quarter grind rolled in with the CBC quiet, fighting for everything and the Rockets leaving nothing undone on their part, and CBC run in 15 points for a gametime total of 50 while the Rockets were unable to do more than get two goals for four points and a total of 41.

Many Fouls for Rockets
The Rockets lost the game mostly because of their constant fouling. Twenty-seven fouls were called on the boys from South Missouri and the CBC aggregation took advantage of this and made good eighteen of them for 18-points while CBC gave up nine fouls for which Rolla was only successful in getting three points.

Goal scoring honors went to the Rockets who made 19 while CBC scored 17. The perfect target shooting on free-throws actually told the story.

Robert "Bob" Tipton of CBC had high scoring honors getting seven goals and two free throws for a 16-point total and Buddy Thomas was next who scored 12-points, or five baskets and two free throws for CBC. Joe Powell and Wendell Crain of the Rockets divided honors. Both scored 13 points, both getting six goals and one free throw each.

Columbia 73, Versailles 61
The Semmon's Furniture of Columbia and Versailles Merchant game, won by Columbia 73 to 61 was far more closer than the score indicated. In fact it was anybody's game up to the last five minutes of play when Columbia came through with an attack which took them away from the five point lead and made a slow but steady gain to "ice" up the game.

Columbia Scored First
Columbia scored first in the opening seconds and a split second the game was tied up by Versailles. Then the visiting Merchants run their score up to eight points before Columbia made a free throw. At one time during the quarter Versailles had an eight point lead of 11 to 3. Columbia begin pouring on the heat and the scoring gradually but surely overcame Versailles and at the end of the quarter it was Columbia 16, Versailles 15. It was a "nipper-and-tucker" in the first half of the second period. Versailles taking the lead in the opening of the period 17-16, Columbia took it over, Versailles repeated it being 19-18. Then Columbia took over and began pulling away until the half-time period showed Columbia 34, Versailles 24.

In the third quarter Versailles outscored Columbia getting 23-points to Columbia's 15, but it wasn't enough and at the end of the period Columbia maintained a three-point lead of 51 to 48. The last quarter the Furniture lads had scoring honors with 22-points while the Merchants were held back with only 13. Versailles in spite of the scoring displayed a great fighting spirit but were unable to coop with the taller and heavier boys from over in Boone County.

Sport Scraps

(By D. Kelly - Scruton)

OLD Man Winter took sides in behalf of the Sedalia Lions Club last week and provided excellent basketball weather. In fact, so good did he treat the club, the Lions have had capacity crowds at every session, all of which went a long way in making the Third Annual Missouri Independent Championship tournament a big success.

A big factor in getting capacity crowds was the fact the Lions built bleachers in the hall, which, although not too attractive from the standpoint of bleachers, serve well to handle a large crowd. Possibly it would be an excellent idea if the Sedalia Park Board would purchase these bleachers and keep them for the Convention Hall in anticipating big crowds from time to time.

"The Third Time is the Charm" said Winston Ream, tournament manager, in reference to the weather. Twice before when the tournament was held, Sedalia was visited by either a terrific sleet and ice storm or a nice good snow, all which went to making basketball fans stay at home and sit by the fireside. This year, about everybody that could come, was in attendance.

According to Lloyd Phillips, financial chairman of the tournament, it is the first time the Lions have more than broke even and monies taken in are used for various activities of the club such as children's fund for aid to the blind, and other civic projects of the organization.

Although a Lion myself, congratulations are in store for those young men who took such an active part in seeking the tournament, and making such a success.

SPEAKING of the boys who played a part in the tournament, brings back a slight memory of last Monday night, when about thirty of the members "reported in" to erect the bleachers, to wash off the large floor of the hall, to paint the lines for the basketball court, and in general, doing a lot of work.

One of the members came up with a basketball, and never before have I seen a basketball game played with sixteen players, eight on each side, but I suppose it was necessary to relay the ball down the court. Anyway about an hour of this activity kept going until the players began dropping to the sidelines as spectators. The teams lost so many players that the game had to come to an end. NOBODY WON.

If a lot of wives had a lot of excuses given them as to why they had to give their husbands rub downs and run to the drug store for liniment to be used on the "head of the house," they now know the story. Don't blame the boys too much, "boys will be boys."

For an example, A. W. Haller, our president, went home, filled his tub with boiling water, climbed in and stayed a long, long time. In fact, his wife was wondering why, and she soon found out later when he said his legs were just a little stiff.

(Note: I talked with Mrs. Haller and she said it was O. K. to pass the word on down to the other suffering wives.)

I can imagine other civic clubs will now be laying for the "Old Men" to discuss a few problems about age.

FACTS about that Monday night game cannot all be told. A certain player ran back and forth so much his shirt began slipped out. He stopped at the side of the court to make adjustments and explained the flesh colored shorts and shirt were a Christmas present.

Another went streaming down the court and his $75 watch went sailing through the air, but it didn't stop his playing. He just kept on going. Another made a dashing "bend over" and rip went something, several made mad grabs for the ball and went skidding across the floor, skin and all.

Abe Silverman was too tired to play and took up the job of referee. Carl Goist, high on top a ladder, arranging the loud speakers was protected by George Curritt and yours truly. In fact, there were Seaberg, Parker, James, Dady, Bunn, Griffin, Ream, Potter, V. Herck, McMullin, E. Stevenson, Stanfield, Hanley and three or four more whose names were lost in the shuffle.

A 41-39 Victory For Colorado Over Missouri

BOULDER, Colo., Feb. 4.—(P)—Kendall Hills drove the length of the floor for a spectacular layup shot to give Colorado a 41-39 victory over Missouri in a Big Seven basketball game tonight.

Colorado had led all the way until, with 40 seconds to go, George Lafferty connected with a jump shot to deadlock the count at 39-all.

The Tigers made another drive for the Colorado basket, but Hills came up with the rebound and dribbled all the way for the winning basket with three seconds left.

Victorious Pool And Gym Meet For Nebraska Over Colo.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 4.—(P)—Nebraska took victories from Colorado State today in both swimming and gymnastics.

The Cornhuskers won 60-24 in the pool and 52-28 in the gym.

Nebraskans won all but one swimming event. Led by Al Dunavan who topped the scoring with 22 points, the Huskers won four of five gymnastics events. Jack Wollery of Colorado State was second in the scoring with 15 points.

to the championship bracket.

Scoring honors of the game went to Robert Garrison of Versailles Merchants who had a total of 22-points getting nine goals and four free-throws while Dick Rischer of Columbia was second in honors with 21-points getting nine goals and four free throws. Leonard Koenigsdorf of the Columbia team had a 17 point total, eight goals and one free throw and Connor of Versailles, 16-points with seven goals and two free-throws.

Kansas State Regains Lead In Big Seven

Wildcats Bowled Over Sooners By A 91 to 68 Score

MANHATTAN, Kas., Feb. 4.—(P)—The Kansas State college Wildcats regained the lead in the Big Seven conference basketball race by outclassing Oklahoma's Sooners, 91 to 68, tonight. It was the Cats fourth league win against one defeat.

Kansas State started slowly and trailed 27-17 with 6 minutes of the first half left. Then the Wildcats warmed up, grabbed a 36-32 halftime lead, and were so hot in the second half that the Oklahoma's just couldn't get hold of the ball.

Wayne Glasgow was the only Oklahoma player Kansas State couldn't subdue. He scored 22 points. Rick Harman topped the K-State scoring with 21.

Bottled Up Centers
Clarence Brannum, Wildcat center, bottled up Bill Waters and big Marcus Freiburger, Oklahoma centers, so effectively they got only 6 and 5 points, respectively.

Kansas State outfigured the Sooners for rebounds, and kept the visitors from shooting.

Oklahoma made 41 per cent of its shots and Kansas State made 40 per cent, but the Sooners got to shoot only 58 times while K-State banged away 81 times.

Mohawks to Clash With Tulsa Oilers

Hockey Tilt Begins Tonight At Pla-Mor In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 4.—Those rampaging Kansas City Mohawks, now under the guidance of genial Hank Blade, are causing a lot of trouble in the United States hockey league as the season goes into the home stretch. The Mohawks will meet the Tulsa Oilers in the Pla-Mor arena, at 8:15 o'clock Sunday night.

Vern Banks, general manager of the Mohawks, also announced that the first "ladies night" in the history of hockey in Kansas City will be held Wednesday, Feb. 8, when the Louisville Blades play their next to the last game in the Pla-Mor arena this season. The women will be admitted upon the payment of the tax.

K. C. Winning Streak

The Kansas City winning streak reached to five in succession when the Mohawks so capably turned back the Omaha Knights, 6 to 3. It was the first time this year (1950) that the Knights lost an ice decision. The Nebraskans had won 11 games and tied three others for their amazing record which took them from the bottom of the heap to the top of the United States hockey league.

Two newcomers, Hec Pozzo and Norm Tustin, have given the Mohawks a lot of offensive spark and against the Omaha club Sunday night Tustin made one of the prettiest goals in the rink this season. Tustin skated hell-bent-for-leather towards Goalie Bill Brennan after he grabbed the puck with his mates shorthanded and he carefully outmaneuvered Brennan for a counter. Sugar Jim Henry is still banging the puck away from him when forwards and wings attempt to get shots and last Saturday night in Tulsa he was rewarded with his first shutout of the season, 4 to 0. Henry had to wait 47 matches before he gained a whitewash job.

Wildcats Bow To Bluejays 29-34

The Hughesville high school Wildcats defeated the Cole Camp Bluejays on the Hughesville court, Friday night by a score of 34 to 29. The Cole Camp boys were ahead almost all of the game, making it necessary for the Hughesville cagers to come from behind to rack up their sixteenth victory of the season against two losses.

It was a hard fought game from start to finish with a half-time score standing at 17 to 13 in favor of Cole Camp. The lead changed several times in the closing minutes of the fourth period.

The high point man for Cole Camp was Von Holten with 11 points, and for Hughesville, Conway with 13 points, followed closely by Thomas with 10.

The Cole Camp girls defeated the Hughesville girls in a preliminary volleyball game by a score of 27 to 11. Although closely contested in the first half, the Cole Camp girls were able to pull away to a comfortable lead. The referees were Rissler and Gilmore.

The Wildcats will meet Sweet Spring in their next game, Wednesday. It will be played on the Hughesville court. Sweet Springs had a strong team and the game should prove exciting. The Wildcats defeated Sweet Springs earlier in the season.

Hughesville players were: Conway, Thomas, Wells, Rayle, Ianey, Yancey, and Schroeder. The Cole Camp squad was made up of the following: Granneman, Gehrs, Von Holten, Sietle, Viehrock, Williams, Otten and Graugatt.

Consolation Title To Smith-Cotton Squad

The Smith-Cotton Tigers fell short of last year's mark of winning the Clinton tournament, which was played in Clinton Friday and Saturday, however, the local cagers put up a hard fought battle and ended up with consolation honors.

The Tigers met their only defeat Friday night by a strong Lexington team. The final score was 40 to 39. The Tigers led the first quarter by a point margin, 9 to 8 and were trailing 19 to 21 at the half. They held a five-point lead at the close of the third quarter and slipped by one point in the final period.

The Tigers defeated the Windsor team Saturday by a 55 to 39 score, and then turned around and trimmed Warrensburg 56 to 31.

This was the first time Coach James Ball has ever had a team to participate in the consolation bracket, since coaching at Smith-Cotton.

The following teams have entered: Sedalia CBC, Warrensburg Cassinghams, Creighton; Marshall M. F. A., Warrensburg Superior Cleaners, Lebanon, Hermitage, Lincoln, Clinton, Versailles, Urbana, Knob Noster, Cross Timbers, Windsor, Humansville and Warsaw.

The pairings for the first two nights are: Tuesday—6:30 p. m., Warsaw vs. Hermitage; 7:45 p. m., Warrensburg Superior Cleaners vs. Urbana; 9:00 p. m., Creighton vs. Cross Timbers; 10:15 p. m., Lebanon vs. Lincoln.

Wednesday—6:30 p. m., Marshall vs. Clinton; 7:45 p. m., Sedalia CBC vs. Humansville; 9:00 p. m., Warrensburg Cassinghams vs. Knob Noster; 10:15 p. m., Windsor vs. Versailles.

Steps Taken To Improve Sulky Sport

Grand Circuit Adopts A System Of Registration

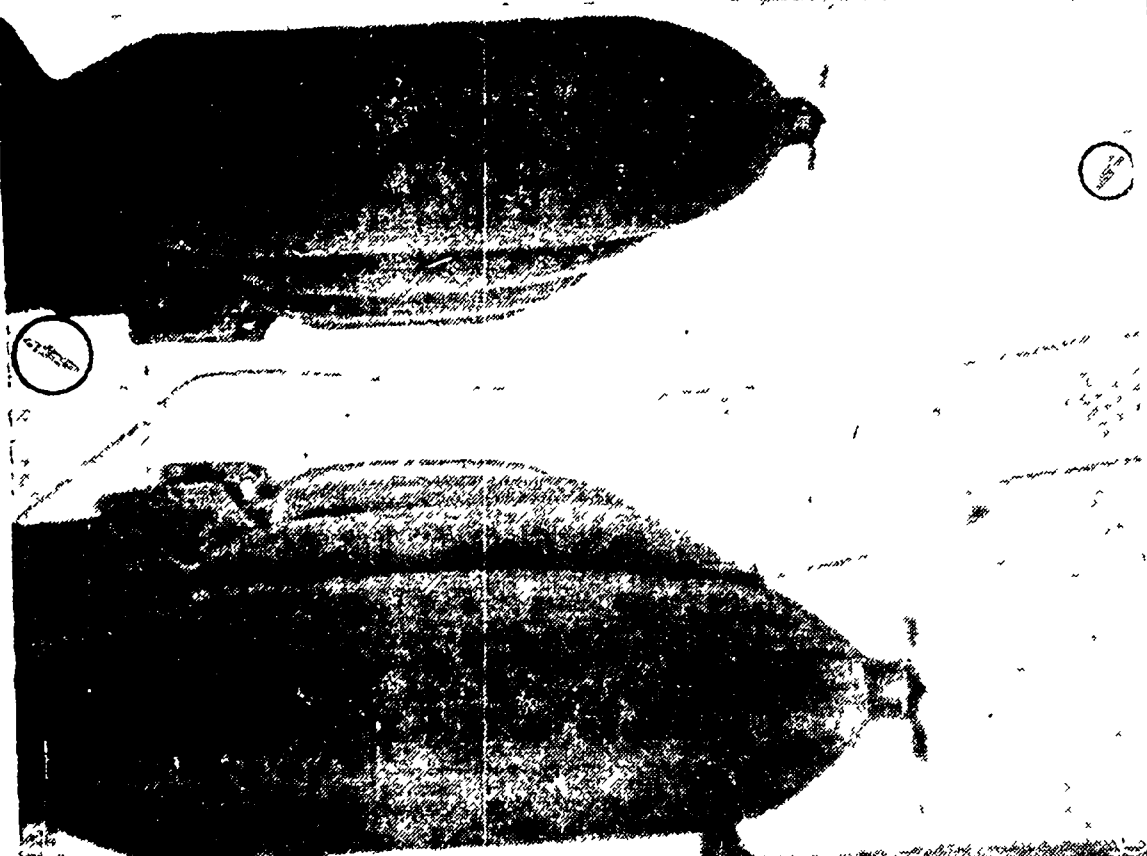

A system for the registration of racing silks throughout harness racing has been adopted by the Grand Circuit, major league of the sulky sport.

Patterned closely after the plan used by the thoroughbred Jockey Club for more than 50 years, the project will mark the first attempt in the standardized sport to record the many and varied colors which are worn on the harness turf. Although being undertaken by the "Roaring Grand", registration is being urged for all horsemen. Last year 7,199 drivers' licenses were issued and 3,720 persons actually drove in races.

Growth In Racing
The recent tremendous growth in harness racing has brought with it a large spread in the duplication of colors resulting in confusion to the public. The immediate need for registration was noted by Grand Circuit President Octave Blake

U. S. Newsmen Rides Nationalist Bombing Mission; Finds Shanghai Almost Lifeless From the Air

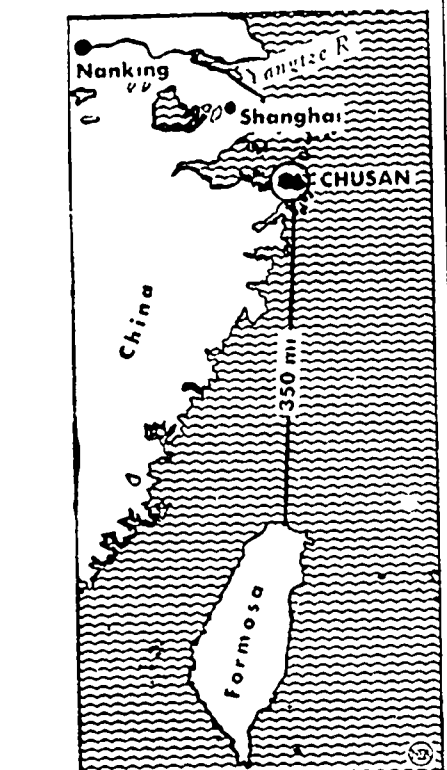

OVER RED SHANGHAI, BOMBS AWAY!—Taken through the open bomb bay of a Chinese Nationalist B-25, this picture was snapped at the moment eight 250-pound bombs were dropped on the vital Yangtze waterfront north of Shanghai. Like the second airview below, this is the first uncensored look Americans have had at the Communist-held Shanghai area since the Reds moved in last May. American eye-witness was NEA's Far Eastern manager, one of two U. S. newsmen who were the first foreign correspondents to visit the vital Nationalist island outpost of Chusan and who flew over Shanghai on a bombing mission. This is the first of two exclusive word-picture reports.

EMPTY RUNWAYS Main landing strip and big parking ramp of Shanghai's once-busy commercial airport were empty when picture (above) was made from a Nationalist bomber. Most of twin-engine planes scattered in fields at bottom of photo appear to be damaged, may have been left when Nationalists retreated.

CHUSAN ISLAND China —
(NEA) — The patched-up B-25 with its sides scorched by the blast of its own machine guns dived over Shanghai, all alone in the air above what used to be the busiest city in the Far East. A few black bursts of anti-aircraft floated up at the plane as it floated over Kiangwan air-drome. Otherwise the city was quiet, and the Chinese Nationalist Air Force bomber had the skies to itself on its mission over the Communist-held mainland.

were the first foreign newspapermen to visit Chusan most important outpost in the battle to hold Formosa, 350 miles to the south.

At this furthest advanced Nationalist base, all force crews fly B-25's and P-51's on one long mission or three short missions every day that weather permits.

The greatest danger they face is not Communist opposition, but the age and condition of the planes and, sometimes, desertion of crews to the Red side. Maintenance and operation are complicated by shortages of planes, parts, bombs and fuel. But even the AT-6's, training planes in America, are armed with 100-pound bombs and machine guns at Chusan.

Britain's Ballot:

Socialism vs. 'Managed' Capitalism is the Real Question; Welfare State Remains

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Staff Correspondent

When Britain goes to the polls Feb. 23 to vote in a general election, the voters will be deciding whether to push forward on the road to socialism or turn back toward a sort of "managed" capitalism.

The eyes of the world—and especially the United States—will be fixed on the British Isles that day. For it will mark the first great test of Britain's widely heralded socialist experiment—now nearly five years old. Labor governments in Australia and New Zealand have toppled after long years in power. Will Britain's Labor regime, the last remaining in an English-speaking nation, stand or fall?

Whatever the outcome, the "welfare state" is not at issue. Both major parties, Labor and the Conservatives, propose to maintain and develop the social services usually lumped under that label.

The battle lines over socialism are drawn between these two parties. The Liberals, the Communists and a handful of splinter parties are in the fray, but no one expects them to get far.

Labor is standing on its five-year record and promising more of the same. It is proud of the social revolution it has engineered. Great industries like coal, electric and gas utilities, rail and truck transportation, civil aviation and overseas communications have been brought under public ownership. Vast new services like the much-disputed national health program have been launched.

Yet Labor's biggest boast is "full employment." British unemployed rolls are at the lowest peacetime levels in many years. Industrial output is 30 per cent above pre-war times. Production per man has risen six per cent in a year and is still climbing.

For tomorrow, Labor's leaders pledge to maintain jobs for all and "fair shares" for all. Aware that irksome rationing and price controls are alienating many Britishers, the party proclaims its intent to relax these bonds where and when it's possible.

Labor likewise would extend public ownership to such industries as sugar, cement, meat, water supply. It would "mutualize" industrial insurance—put the companies in the hands of the policy holders.

And, of course, it would carry out the nationalization of the steel industry which already has been voted by Parliament. The scheduled date for that move is January, 1951.

Observers note that Labor plans to nationalize at a slower pace from here on. Industries already taken over amount to about 20 per cent of the British economy. The new program would add only around 5 per cent, leaving 75 per cent still more or less free.

What do the Conservatives offer the voters as an alternative? They, too, promise full employment.

CLEMENT ATLEE: The promise is more of the same.

WINSTON CHURCHILL: The promise is to manage it better.

ment. They would keep all existing social services but extend and "improve" them. They would reduce taxes, both direct and indirect. And they pledge to wipe out current food subsidies that give consumers grocery shop prices below world market levels. To offset this move, they would protect the poor by upping family allowances, pensions and other cash benefits.

While their stand on taxes and subsidies sets them apart from Labor, the Conservatives distinguish themselves from their main rivals chiefly by their intent to "bring nationalization to a full stop here and now."

They would leave the steel industry in private hands. No new efforts at government ownership would be undertaken. They would consider restoring to private control the civil aviation business and parts of the trucking industry. Coal mining and rail transportation might be decentralized and reorganized to stimulate competition within those fields. But they rate it impractical to return all

MRS. ATLEE: For five years Labor's first lady.

MRS. CHURCHILL: Her husband's still glamorous.

nationalized businesses to private management.

The differences between the two parties on this general issue are crystal clear. But the Conservatives' support of the welfare state, with a footnote reading "we can manage it better," seems sure to draw fire as a British version of the "me-tooism" so often criticized within our own Republican party.

And in the field of foreign policy the two big contenders in Britain look more alike than they do anywhere else. Both are primarily devoted to advancing the cause of the British Commonwealth, but they also want to work more closely with Western Europe and the United States.

The Labor and Conservative parties each recognize that Britain's economic future depends on restoring sound trade balances with the rest of the world, particularly with this country.

Thus far in the campaign the Labor party has appeared shy about acknowledging the large role played by U. S. aid in getting Britain back on its feet. Conservatives have been frank to admit the fact and have gone on to accuse Labor of squandering the help recklessly.

That's the theme running through the Conservatives' argument: That they will be more efficient managers, giving the British more welfare for his money and at the same time keeping him relatively free to earn the rewards of his initiative and enterprise. They propose, in other words, a managerial revolution.

As for Labor, it simply proposes to get on with the same socialist revolution that it started back in 1945.

CAMPBELL HILL, Ill. —(AP)—This, so far as Roy Schnaare is concerned, is the horse-and-truck era.

Schnaare is an ex-GI and a blacksmith. Not enough horses came to town to make his shop profitable. So he decided to shoe the horses on the farms. He makes his rounds in a panel truck equipped to carry a forge, anvil, tools and a stock of horseshoes.

Van Natta Club Entertains at Square Dance

For some time members of the Van Natta 4-H club have been begging Mrs. Samuel F. Long, leader for a dance. Mrs. Long began checking with parents and finding everybody she talked to willing she decided to have the dance. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Long had ever danced before but they opened their home on route 3, Sedalia, to the 4-H club members and their parents. The Van Natta 4-H club members wanted this one and that one until the group included members from Quisenberry, Brown and Lone Elm 4-H clubs, too, as well as their parents.

Musicians and Callers

Musicians were J. W. Bucher, H. W. Lemler and Eddie Peyton. Callers were Mickey Hayes, of Sedalia, Tom Williams of the Prairie View district and George Gorrell, Leonard Scotten, and P. W. Embree, all of the Van Natta community.

All Danced

Everybody danced and really had fun. If they didn't know how, and many of them didn't, they went in anyway and soon learned. Finally a little girl in the first grade of school edged her way to the caller and smiled up at him: "When is my time?" she said.

The caller beamed down at her: "Right now, honey, I think your partner is in the next room." He called to one of the men in the next room that his partner was ready and the little girl went right through with him just like a grown-up girl.

A young boy of ten or twelve years of age had watched the dancing quietly from the sidelines. "Don't you want to try it, son?" asked his mother, and the boy after hesitating a few minutes answered that he might try it.

He Was Dizzy

When he came out his eyes were red and a little swollen like

Trenton Landmark

The Grundy County Courthouse (above, in Trenton, Mo., was built on land donated to the county by James Lomax, Trenton's first store owner. It was in an earlier building on this same site that two famous Missouri soldiers, Generals John J. Pershing and Enoch Crowder, took their examinations for entrance in the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. (AP PHOTO) he had been crying, but there was a pleased expression on his face. "What is the matter?" asked his mother. "Have you been crying, your eyes are so red." "No," replied the boy slowly. "I'm—I'm sort of going around. The merry whirl had made him dizzy.

The next regular meeting of the Van Natta club will be on February 20, at which time members of Quisenberry, Brown and Lone Elm 4-H clubs will again be guests.

New Chinese Red University

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — A "Peoples University of China" will be set up with Soviet Russian instructors, says a recent Peiping broadcast heard here. The radio did not say where the new university will be located. It is said that the school would "train experts needed for the construction of New China."

Face powder was used by Greek women 2300 years ago.

New Members In 4-H Club

The Striped College 4-H Club met at the school February 1 at 8:00 o'clock that night. The meeting was opened by all repeating the 4-H Club pledge. Roll call was answered by 25 members naming "A Game I Like to Play." Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following new members were present: Gail Kroeger, Dorothy Baldwin, Ethyl Litz, Sanny Kroeger, June Evelyn Hunter and Donald Shirley. Caroline Staley and Helen Baldwin are also new members, but were unable to be present. Twelve visitors were in attendance.

Mrs. L. I. Patrick made several important announcements. A motion was made and carried that a donation be given to the March of Dimes. The Blue Ribbon seal was placed on the charter.

During the program, a team demonstration on "How to stand, walk and sit correctly" was given by Barbara Leiter and Ida Mae Bahner. Laura Bahner and Rosella Hunter each gave a talk on Music Appreciation, after which they led the group in several songs. The meeting was then adjourned.

A social hour followed, with refreshments being served by Mrs. Fred Staley, Mrs. M. T. Dabner and Mrs. E. C. Stevens.

The next meeting will be held March 1 at 8:00 p. m.

John Hodiak, portraying a Sedalia newspaperman-turned GI in the motion picture "Battleground", which opens a five-day engagement at the Fox theatre today, discusses a Nazi propaganda leaflet at Bastogne with a truckful of fellow GI's, including Van Johnson, Ricardo Montalban, George Murphy, Jerome Courtland, Douglas Fowley and Don Taylor. The spectacular production is hailed as the greatest war drama of this generation.

Parable of Talents Works

EARLY, England — (AP) — When Vicar Stanley Robinson tested Saint Matthew's "Parable of the Talents" on 15 parishioners he found they had better business heads than the three servants in the Bible. To raise church funds, he gave each a shilling (14 cents) — just as the parable's hero gave one servant five talents, another two and a third one.

In the parable, two servants doubled their capital and the third brought back only the original talent. But Vicar Robinson's "good and faithful servants" turned in 11 pounds eight shillings and a penny ($31.93) on the 15-shilling ($2.10) investment.

A bank-manager spent his shillings on gasoline and charized his friends for lifts. A tailor bought a zip fastener and made a pouch that sold for two pounds five shillings.

Others made and sold iron hold-ers or built up brisk little side-lines in cigarettes, razor blades, papers and flowers.

There is $28,000,000,000,000 worth of gold in the ocean, but it would cost $50 to get each dollar's worth of it.

Contrary to popular belief, unfertilized coffee grounds are not a fertilizer.

BRITAIN IGNORES CRUISE IDEA

LONDON — (AP) — Austerity "strength through joy" cruises through the Mediterranean for hard-working Britons have been proposed in Parliament to help the island of Malta out of the hole. Laborite Mont Follick said Britain should convert four old aircraft carriers for passengers and turn them over to the economically hard-pressed little island. Each ship would carry about 500 passengers without luxury. The passengers would do all the light work and the crew the heavy work and cooking, Follick added.

Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones said Follick ignored many practical problems involved.

Pacific Island Meen to Meet

HONOLULU — (AP) — Delegates from scattered islands and coral atolls of the South Pacific will meet next April 24 at Suva, Fiji, for the first conference in their history.

Plans for the session were laid at a meeting of the six-nation South Pacific commission recently at Noumea, New Caledonia. These nations, which govern islands in the region, are the United States, United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, France and The Netherlands.

Representatives will come from Papua, New Guinea, Dutch New Guinea, Nauru, New Caledonia, French Oceania, the Cook Islands, Niue, Fiji, British Solomons, Gilbert and Ellice Islands, American Samoa and Tokelau islands. The independent kingdom of Tonga also has been invited.

Brakes, to be effective, should be able to stop an automobile traveling at the rate of 40 miles an hour in 71 feet.

Among migratory birds, the males usually arrive a few days ahead of the females according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
